Find my Voice, Fill my Well      Shira Kline and Rosalie Will      Soref Rotunda

From Biblical patriarchy to modern day inequalities, many have been left without a voice, felt on the sidelines. This musical conversation will provide tools and language to create a positive vision of each of our own strengths and gifts. A conversation about the balance of the power vested by others and authentic self-empowerment. Women's Sacred Voices – Empowerment, Strength, and Gift Giving

Present at the Creation: Debbie Friedman and the Birth of a New American-Jewish Song.

Jeff Klepper      Lodge

In 1969, when Debbie Friedman taught her first songleading class at Kutz Camp, Reform Jews rarely sang in synagogue. Only at camp and youth group was singing thought to be important. Fifty years later, we look back to see what changed, and how.
